

Certification of IT-Specialists according to ISO 17024

Cert-IT – worldwide the first accredited certification body for specialists of the IT trainings system (AITTS) - confirms the profile specific competence of IT Specialists to globally accepted standards and uniform technical standards.

The IT Specialist certificate proves that you are able to perform and document real process-oriented IT projects - with real deadlines, real colleagues - and a real boss! With certification as an IT Specialist, employers can ensure that employees work process-oriented and efficiently.

With this certification according to ISO 17024, you have expertise in one of the 14 IT Specialists profiles, not only in theory but also practice based.

Cert-IT GmbH, founded by the Social Partners of the IT industries, the German Association for Information Technology, Telecommunication and New Media, the Central Association of Electric Engineering and Electric Industries, the Metal Workers' Union, the Unified Service Industries Union, the German Society for Computer Sciences, and the Fraunhofer-Society.

The Certification of IT-Specialists according to ISO 17024 offers a huge range of benefits:

For certified IT Specialists

- Evidence of skills acquired in professional practice
- Proof of competence, based on worldwide ISO standards
- Targeted career development

For employers

- Staff development
- Career paths
- Improving productivity and service quality